

SECTION B - SUPPLIES OR SERVICES AND PRICES/COSTS

B.1 DESCRIPTION OF SERVICES

Under the terms and conditions of this contract, the HENs shall design and conduct various types of training events and sessions for hospitals. The training shall be rooted in establishing and measuring/evaluating ongoing improvement projects in each participating hospital (or facility). All education activities are designed to achieve reductions in the ten core events and producing measurable improvements in quality measures associated with the ten core events.

The success of the HEN shall, in large part, be assessed through objective measurement of the incidence of the ten core events. The HENs will be required to coordinate their efforts with government and other contractor personnel involved in the PfP while performing tasks of this contract as defined in the requirements below. In order to successfully perform this contract, the HENs must host various training sessions for hospitals engaged in ongoing improvement projects. While it is anticipated that the HENs will engage in methods such as webinars, meetings, and conferences to accomplish the work as defined in this contract, it must be noted that this is a performance-based contract; the expectation is that the contractors will specify in detail the methods they plan to use to meet the requirements as established by the Government.
